

At Namaaste Kitchen the welfare of our guests and staff is our highest priority.

As a local neighbourhood restaurant, we are committed to offering you a welcoming and delicious experience whenever you'd care to join us and have taken every step we can to ensure we can do so in spite of the COVID-19 situation.

We have taken the UK government recommendations as a starting point, exceeding them at every point to give the safest experience we can for all who visit us - enhanced cleaning, health-checking all of our staff before their shifts and working with our suppliers to ensure they are taking all possible measures too.

For those who want to enjoy our food at home, we are offering the option of contact-free delivery while the current situation continues.

These are trying times for everyone and we hope that you and your loved ones are keeping calm and healthy – and if we can help by providing some good times, at ours or at yours, then we're always here.

Very best,
Chef-Patron Sabbir Karim & the team
